Week of the Young Child

April 12th-16th

For young children, the future of their academic success and development relies on early learning. Each year the National Association for the Education of Young Children acknowledges the importance of education young children by holding a weeklong celebration focused on the earliest of learners and honoring those who teach them. This year is the 50th anniversary- an exciting milestone for this celebration of educating today's young learners. This national celebration is known as the "Week of the Young Child and is celebrated April 12th-16th this year. A flyer with some ideas to celebrate with your kids will be coming home soon. The daily themes for the week are as follows:

Music Monday

Tasty Tuesday

WORK TOGETHER WEDNESDAY

Artsy Thursday

family friday

To celebrate all of our special Little Jewels each center will also feature a special mural in the lobby, and we need your help! Add a post-it note to the mural that describes your child in one word. We can't wait to see all of those wonderful things that make your kids wonderful and unique!
